TO THE UNKNOWN AUTHOR

OF

The Grammar of Heraldry.

SIR,

THOU' I have not the honour to be acquainted with your Person or Name, yet I make bold to dedicate this to you, as a fit Patron; not doubting your Acceptance; for I am assured you have a Mind actuated with the love of Arms and Honour, or you would not have attempted to retrieve their Glory, by bringing Heraldry, (the external Reward of Vertue) into its deserved (tho long lost) Esteem.

I have not presumed to add this to what you have proposed in your Grammar, as imagining you were incapable, but as finding you were unwilling to be too Large. Excuse me, me, therefore, if I depend upon it, that you and my Fellow-Subscribers will accept of my Labour herein; and as for those who do not think fit to join mine to yours, according to the Design I had in printing it, they may keep it singly by them.

If it be objected, that for want of proper Cuts, this will be of little Use; I answer, That the Objection holds but when 'tis alone, and in the possession of those who understand no Heraldry; but if bound up with yours, the Deficiency of Cuts will be abundantly made up; for if there be in the Grammar but 800 Arms, 'tis impossible there should not be proper Cuts to most of the Coats herein.

Thus, Sir, having inform'd you of my Intention in publishing this Catalogue, and desiring to be excused for the Trouble of a Dedication, I am,

Your humble Servant, and Subscriber,
